106TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. 1143

AN ACT

To establish a program to provide assistance for programs of credit and other financial services for microenterprises in developing countries, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “Microenterprise for 3 Self-Reliance Act of 1999”.

4 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND DECLARATIONS OF POLICY.

5 The Congress makes the following findings and dec-6 larations:

7 (1) According to the World Bank, more than 8 1,200,000,000 people in the developing world, or 9 one-fifth of the world’s population, subsist on less 10 than $1 a day.

11 (2) Over 32,000 of their children die each day 12 from largely preventable malnutrition and disease.

13 (3)(A) Women in poverty generally have larger 14 work loads and less access to educational and eco-15 nomic opportunities than their male counterparts.

16 (B) Directly aiding the poorest of the poor, es-
17 pecially women, in the developing world has a posi-18 tive effect not only on family incomes, but also on 19 child nutrition, health and education, as women in 20 particular reinvest income in their families.

21 (4)(A) The poor in the developing world, par-
22 ticularly women, generally lack stable employment 23 and social safety nets.

24 (B) Many turn to self-employment to generate 25 a substantial portion of their livelihood. In Africa,

1 over 80 percent of employment is generated in the 2 informal sector of the self-employed poor.

3 (C) These poor entrepreneurs are often trapped
4 in poverty because they cannot obtain credit at rea-
5 sonable rates to build their asset base or expand 6 their otherwise viable self-employment activities.

7 (D) Many of the poor are forced to pay interest 8 rates as high as 10 percent per day to money lend-9 ers.

10 (5)(A) The poor are able to expand their in-11 comes and their businesses dramatically when they 12 can access loans at reasonable interest rates.

13 (B) Through the development of self-sustaining 14 microfinance programs, poor people themselves can 15 lead the fight against hunger and poverty.

16 (6)(A) On February 2–4, 1997, a global Micro-17 credit Summit was held in Washington, District of 18 Columbia, to launch a plan to expand access to cred-19 it for self-employment and other financial and busi-20 ness services to 100,000,000 of the world's poorest 21 families, especially the women of those families, by 22 2005.

23 (B) With an average family size of five, achiev-24 ing this goal will mean that the benefits of micro-

1 finance will thereby reach nearly half of the world's 2 more than 1,000,000,000 absolute poor people.

3 (7)(A) Nongovernmental organizations, such as 4 those that comprise the Microenterprise Coalition
5 (such as the Grameen Bank (Bangladesh,) K-REP
6 (Kenya), and networks such as Accion International, 7 the Foundation for International Community Assist-8 ance (FINCA), and the credit union movement) are 9 successful in lending directly to the very poor.

10 (B) Microfinance institutions such as BRAC
11 (Bangladesh), BancoSol (Bolivia), SEWA Bank
12 (India), and ACEP (Senegal) are regulated financial 13 institutions that can raise funds directly from the 14 local and international capital markets.

15 (8)(A) Microenterprise institutions not only re-16 duce poverty, but also reduce the dependency on for-17 eign assistance.

18 (B) Interest income on the credit portfolio is 19 used to pay recurring institutional costs, assuring 20 the long-term sustainability of development assist-
21 ance.

22 (9) Microfinance institutions leverage foreign 23 assistance resources because loans are recycled, gen-24 erating new benefits to program participants.

1 (10)(A) The development of sustainable micro-
2 finance institutions that provide credit and training, 3 and mobilize domestic savings, are critical compo-4 nents to a global strategy of poverty reduction and 5 broad-based economic development.

6 (B) In the efforts of the United States to lead 7 the development of a new global financial architec-8 ture, microenterprise should play a vital role. The 9 recent shocks to international financial markets 10 demonstrate how the financial sector can shape the 11 destiny of nations. Microfinance can serve as a pow-12 erful tool for building a more inclusive financial sec-13 tor which serves the broad majority of the world's 14 population including the very poor and women and 15 thus generate more social stability and prosperity.

16 (C) Over the last two decades, the United 17 States has been a global leader in promoting the 18 global microenterprise sector, primarily through its 19 development assistance programs at the United 20 States Agency for International Development. Addi-
21 tionally, the United States Department of the Treas-
22 ury and the Department of State have used their au-23 thority to promote microenterprise in the develop-24 ment programs of international financial institutions
25 and the United Nations.

1 (11)(A) In 1994, the United States Agency for 2 International Development launched the “Micro-3 enterprise Initiative” in partnership with the Con-4 gress.

5 (B) The initiative committed to expanding 6 funding for the microenterprise programs of the 7 Agency, and set a goal that, by the end of fiscal year 8 1996, half of all microenterprise resources would 9 support programs and institutions that provide cred-10 it to the poorest, with loans under $300.

11 (C) In order to achieve the goal of the micro-12 credit summit, increased investment in microcredit 13 institutions serving the poorest will be critical.

14 (12) Providing the United States share of the 15 global investment needed to achieve the goal of the 16 microcredit summit will require only a small increase 17 in United States funding for international micro-18 credit programs, with an increased focus on institu-19 tions serving the poorest.

20 (13)(A) In order to reach tens of millions of the 21 poorest with microcredit, it is crucial to expand and 22 replicate successful microcredit institutions.

23 (B) These institutions need assistance in devel-24 oping their institutional capacity to expand their 25 services and tap commercial sources of capital.

1 (14) Nongovernmental organizations have dem-
2 onstrated competence in developing networks of local 3 microfinance institutions and other assistance deliv-4 ery mechanisms so that they reach large numbers of 5 the very poor, and achieve financial sustainability.

6 (15) Recognizing that the United States Agency 7 for International Development has developed very ef-
8 fective partnerships with nongovernmental organiza-
9 tions, and that the Agency will have fewer missions
10 to carry out its work, the Agency should place pri-
11 ority on investing in those nongovernmental network 12 institutions that meet performance criteria through 13 the central funding mechanisms of the Agency.

14 (16) By expanding and replicating successful 15 microcredit institutions, it should be possible to cre-16 ate a global infrastructure to provide financial serv-17 ices to the world's poorest families.

18 (17)(A) The United States can provide leader-19 ship to other bilateral and multilateral development 20 agencies as such agencies expand their support to 21 the microenterprise sector.

22 (B) The United States should seek to improve 23 coordination among G-7 countries in the support of 24 the microenterprise sector in order to leverage the

1 investment of the United States with that of other 2 donor nations.

3 (18) Through increased support for microenter-4 prise, especially credit for the poorest, the United 5 States can continue to play a leadership role in the 6 global effort to expand financial services and oppor-7 tunity to 100,000,000 of the poorest families on the 8 planet.

9 SEC. 3. PURPOSES.

10 The purposes of this Act are—

11 (1) to make microenterprise development an im-12 portant element of United States foreign economic 13 policy and assistance;

14 (2) to provide for the continuation and expan-
15 sion of the commitment of the United States Agency 16 for International Development to the development of 17 microenterprise institutions as outlined in its 1994
18 Microenterprise Initiative;

19 (3) to support and develop the capacity of 20 United States and indigenous nongovernmental or-21 ganization intermediaries to provide credit, savings, 22 training and technical services to microentre-
23 preneurs;

24 (4) to increase the amount of assistance de-25 voted to credit activities designed to reach the poorest sector in developing countries, and to improve the access of the poorest, particularly women, to microenterprise credit in developing countries; and

(5) to encourage the United States Agency for International Development to coordinate micro-finance policy, in consultation with the Department of the Treasury and the Department of State, and to provide global leadership in promoting micro-enterprise for the poorest among bilateral and multi-lateral donors.

SEC. 4. MICROENTERPRISE DEVELOPMENT GRANT ASSIST-ANCE.

Chapter 1 of part I of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2151 et seq.) is amended—

3 DINATOR OF BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL
4 MICROENTERPRISE ASSISTANCE ACTIVITIES.

5 (a) FINDINGS AND POLICY.—The Congress finds and
